Specsavers Surrey Youth Games (SSYG)

The Specsavers Surrey Youth Games is the largest annual sport and physical activity event for young people aged 6-16 (up to 18 and in full time education for disability activities) in Surrey. The Games aims to provide a range of free sport and physical activity opportunities for young people who are not already physically active. Underpinning participation in sport and physical activity, young people taking part in sport are developing intrinsic values. These values help participants outside of the sporting arena and help give them social and emotional development. Introducing values also shifts the emphasis away from winning.

About the SSYG Values

The SSYG Values are:

Honesty – Always telling the truth, never cheating and knowing when you are wrong.

Respect – Being polite, not shouting or getting angry, treating others how you wish to be treated, listening to the coach/leaders and not talking over them.

Determination – Never giving up on yourself or your team, always trying your best no matter how hard it is and trying again if something goes wrong.

Design a Value Competition

The idea is for you to design the 4th value ‘Teamwork’. The design is to represent what this value stands for which is representing working with your team and not on your own; sharing and letting everyone have a go; encouraging your team mates and saying well done.
